Winter Specials Inside

Big Bikes are Brewing!

This season at R+E Cycles has been all custom....all the time! Bicycles built for 1, 2, 3, 4 and even 5 people (yes I said 5) have been growing in the frame shop at a regular pace. Custom is the word of the year, and just about every Rodriguez or Erickson bicycle in 2019 has been something different. We don't mind though, our team is up the task, and since every bicycle we build is built one at a time, customization is always possible. Remember, when you buy a Rodriguez, you buy the whole shop!

Here's an image from the CAD drawing of our most recent bicycle built for 5.

Electric Bikes Are Here

Commute, Save Gas $$, Ride for Fun on our new Electric Models!

The world of electric assist bicycles is evolving rapidly. Even so, most electric bikes are more like department store bikes with motors attached. Our customers want something different. They want a high quality bicycle that simply gives them assist. They want it to be light, responsive, and comfortably fit to their body measurements, just like we do for all of our bicycle customers at R+E Cycles. Well, we've come up with some great offerings that fit the bill including a very special model, the new U-District (see page 4-5), offered at an introductory price of just $2,500 with your choice of color. Some of our U-District customers started out on a heavier, uncomfortable 'other brand' eBike before coming to us. Before you make a mistake, and buy something that you wish you hadn't, our eBike customers have a couple recommendations for you:

1.) "Before you buy an electric assist bike, ride it a considerable distance with the motor turned off. If that's not enjoyable, then don't buy it." You see, if your battery dies, you'll be riding the bike with the motor off.

Does it ride like a bike?

2.) "Lift the bike onto your car rack to make sure that you can." Just like a regular bike, sometimes you'll need to transport your eAssist bike. A 70+ pound behemoth is hard to lift.

Is it too heavy?

3.) "Buy something with a torque sensor design so that it feels natural." Many designs feel like riding a motorcycle with just a throttle. Many others have a 'jerky' feeling with a cadence sensor.

Unlike other eBikes, all of our offerings at R+E Cycles are light enough to ride as regular bikes, and lift onto your car rack. We use a high quality motor with a torque sensor, a long range battery and of course, guarantee a comfortable fit.

The Perfect Fit

If you're considering an electric assist bicycle, contact us before you buy. You'll be glad you did. After all, it is about the bicycle as much as it is about the electric....and we know both.

“What kind of motor is right for your bicycle?”

Electric bike designs are all over the map, but there are basically 2 types of motors used....hub drive and mid drive. The type of motor design is an important thing to consider.

Type 1.) Hub Drive Motor:

These motors are mounted inside the hub in one of the wheels. You'll see this type of motor on eBikes that sell for under $2,000. Hub motors are satisfactory for short commutes, weekend rides with the kids, or getting groceries if you ride mainly on flat ground at higher speed. They are inexpensive to build with, and can be installed and removed fairly easily.

The Ups

- Inexpensive to build with
- Can be installed and removed fairly easily
- Allows for multiple chain rings

The Downs

- Not as efficient as mid-drive
- Drains the battery faster
- Does not lend itself torque sensor :-)

Type 2.) Mid Drive Motor:

Mid drive motors are mounted to the cranks. They provide a lot more power and efficiency, but are not a design that can be taken off easily. It can be switched off and ridden as a regular bike, but the motor stays attached to the frame. You'll find most mid drive eBikes at $3,000 or more (see our introductory U-district model on opposite page). If your commute is long, or the rides you want to do are long with hills, choose a mid drive unit with lots of power and a good battery. A good torque sensor can be used with these to enhance the ride as well.

The Ups

- Very efficient
- More power than hub drive
- Torque sensor often included
- Longer battery life

The Downs

- More expensive than hub drive units
- Not easily removed to convert back to regular bike

Rodriguez Phinney Ridge - Most Versatile Bike Made

Whether it's gravel grinding, road riding, or daily commuting, the Phinney Ridge from Rodriguez is your disc brake warrior. Our exclusive fork design allows for more tire clearance and proper handling. The Phinney Ridge is versatile, affordable, and made in the U.S.A. Rodriguez Phinney Ridge.

• Choose your wheel size (26", 650b or 700c) • Hand crafted in Seattle for your unique needs • No compromise on comfort - It's just your size! • Ride anywhere! Great for gravel or road • A favorite for Seattle commuters • Our exclusive fork allows wider tires + fenders • Front and rear rack braze-ons • Anything else....Just ask!

Full bike from Just $2,599

What the other guys are missing: Fat Tires You Say? The mistake most bike manufacturers make with a disc brake road bike is that they build them with a fork that doesn't provide good toe clearance when wide tires and fenders are used. We've found that most folks wanting a disc brake road bike want to have the option to run really wide tires with fenders. Depending on the wheel size you choose, the Phinney Ridge can run up to 50mm (or 2 inch) wide tires with fenders!

If you're contemplating a new bike that's mass produced overseas....don't do it! Come visit us at R+E Cycles, and have a Phinney Ridge hand-built right here in Seattle U.S.A. just for you. Call today to set up a test ride.

Let's Make it Interesting

Your Commute Can Be Sensational!

This article applies to any bicycle you commute on.....electric assist or 100% human powered...like mine.

I see a lot of folks out on the commuter trails riding old, poor fitting, cruddy bikes. I know a lot of these people have nice bikes, but don't want to 'mess' them up by riding them as their everyday commuter. This doesn't make sense to me. I spend a lot more time riding my commuter bicycle than my 'fun' bikes. If you really want to commit to commuting, make your daily commuter a fun bike to ride. It should be more comfortable than your 'go-fast' bike! Spend a little money on making it that way. If you look forward to your ride, then you'll actually do it....right?

FIT IS CRUCIAL

Being comfortable and having the bicycle fit you properly is more important on your daily commuter as well. So many people spend a lot of money getting their 'race' bike fit to them, but don't think of investing that on their daily commuter. I dial my fit in on my commuter, and then apply those fit numbers to my race bike and my tandem. It pays to invest in a comfortable bike fit at R+E Cycles. (Save 50% with the Coupon on this page.)

INSTALLING NEW PRODUCTS

When a new product comes out that we love, I install it on my commuter first. For instance, I installed a Kinekt seat post into my commuter bike (coupon below). When summer came around, and the Outlaw came out of the garage, I rode it around the block and realized I needed a Kinekt in that bike as well. The same thing happened with my FSA K-wing handle bars. They were so comfortable after commuting on them through the Fall, that I ended up with a pair of them on every bike.

I guess the moral of the story is: Treat your commuter as your prized possession, and it'll keep you wanting to ride all year. There's no reason to think of it as a throw away bike.

Me, commuting on a sunny winter day in November. Notice I'm smiling even though I'm pulling over 100 pounds up the hill. That's what comfort can do for you;-)

Nasty Bike!

If you know me well, you've probably seen my 21 year old Dodge pick up truck. For the last several years, large sheets of paint have been blowing off during any freeway drive. People say to me "You're truck is lookin' pretty nasty, when will you get a new one". Even my wife cleared me to sell it and replace it. Well, I finally had enough of that, and took it in the other day for a new paint job. While it was in there, they detailed the inside (which was even nastier than the outside). It's like a new truck, and people think I got a new one. Even my wife will ride in it now.

The point is, maybe you have a bike that's as nasty as my old truck. Let us do for you what the body shop did for me. Bring in your old bike and we'll make it like new in so many ways! We'll remove all the parts, paint the frame (and fork if requested) and then reassemble as we perform our complete Seasonal Overhaul on it at the same time. Your bike will leave here as much like new as it can be. In the summer, this full service would run over $900. Use this coupon to get the full package for just $600 on your Rodriguez bike, or $700 for other brands. Extra charges apply for fancier paint designs. Add 30% more for a tandem bike.

We Have The Best Customers In The World!

Hi Scott,

I have been meaning to write to you to once again thank you for all your help with our tandem. We had an excellent time at the NWTR. We saw perhaps a dozen Rodriguez tandems and even one of the mini-tandems that you make. I know that we are very biased, but I honestly feel that our tandem was one of the very nicest machines on the road, and there were over 400 tandem teams. Our skills continue to improve. I am always amazed, each and every time we saddle up, how nice our Rodriguez is. It is stable, responsive, fast and both Anne and I just love it. Your recent tune-up and adjustments were spot-on. Thank you so much.

I hope that you are doing well. Best to you and the rest of the crew at R&E Cycles!

Karl & Anne
